

SAUNTERINGS

From Where The West Begins.

By JOHN T. MEYERS.
For The Sea Coast Echo.

With Thanksgiving Day just two weeks ahead, Turkey Gobbler is again occupying a prominent place in the thoughts and anticipated appetites of the great American public. At Otero, the center of a turkey raising country, an annual Turkey Day was staged on Thursday. The outstanding feature of this unique celebration was a parade in which 5000 turkeys strutted down the principal streets of the city behind decorated floats and automobiles. Festivities continue for three days, and include a race, coronation of a Sultan and his queen, football game, street dances, kiddie parade, and other amusements. High state officials were in attendance.

It is bad enough to have an airplane go haywire in mid-air, and be forced to take to your parachute to save your life; but to land, of all places, in the midst of a thick growth of prickly cactus from a 500-foot jump—that's a case of goose-necked hard luck. Such was the experience of Lieut. Julius Flock of Kelly Field. In addition to painful cactus stickers, Lieutenant Flock sustained a twisted ankle.

Another cactus sticker victim was Jesus Flores, Mexican, residing in a small town near San Antonio. Flores was a guest at a wedding. He claimed he was beaten and thrown bodily into a patch of prickly-pear. County hospital attendants spent several hours removing cactus thorns from his body. The victim was some practical joker's idea of treatment for a rejected suitor.

The pitiful sight of a disabled world war veteran hand-peddling his way in a wheel chair over the line of march in San Antonio's Armistice Day parade, was mute evidence of the horror and ravages of war. One could not help but wonder—all things considered—what this veteran, along with countless others, was sacrificed in vain.

FILMING of "West Point of the Air," a Metro-Goldwyn-May production is under way here at Randolph Field. Wallace Berry is playing the leading role that of a veteran army enlisted pilot. Robert Young plays the part of the sergeant's son, a flying cadet who falls in love with the commanding general's daughter. Madge Evans is the daughter and Lewis Stone will enact the role of general. Others in the cast include: Russell Hardie, Robt. Taylor, Henry Wadsworth and Robert Livingston.

WALLACE BEERY arrived in San Antonio by plane several days ahead of other members of the cast. Berry flew his private plane, a brand new Bellanca cabin type from California. His four-year old daughter Carol Ann arrived by train along with the other film celebrities.

LAST week, Betty Davis, blonde motion picture star, accompanied by her husband, and Howard Lally, juvenile actor, stopped in San Antonio for a few hours visit. The party were motoring to the west coast, following a visit to New York and Boston.

The state of Texas has 54 CCC camps. Cost of maintenance is estimated at $1,000,000 a month.

"DIZZY" DEAN'S popularity is being capitalized upon by his Uncle Sammie—not in income tax dives alone—but on army recruiting posters as well. Latest posters show a portrait of the Cardinal's pitching ace with a caption below: "The army trained him." Dean was at one time a soldier at Ft. Sam Houston.

PRESIDENT Roosevelt's next fireside radio broadcast to the citizens of the United States is scheduled to take place early in December, probably on Sunday, December 9th. At this time the President will outline his legislative program for the next Congress. This will be President Roosevelt's heart-to-heart talk to an eager listening audience.

THIS column celebrates its second year of weekly appearance with this week's publication. It is the hope of the writer that readers have enjoyed reading Saunterings as much as we have enjoyed writing this feature for your entertainment.

SECRETARY of War, George H. Dern, was a visitor in San Antonio last week. Secretary Dern arrived by plane, and visited Randolph and Brooks flying fields, also attending a review of Second division troops at Ft. Sam Houston. He intimated San Antonio's flying fields would be developed as the most important feature of national defense. New and rebuilding military projects totalling from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000, depending on available funds, are envisioned here, following the secretary's personal inspection tour of local flying fields. Secretary Dern was favorably impressed with San Antonio's climate which permits flying practice every day in the year, with very few exceptions.

STORY OF 'BEAUVOIR'

THE HOME AT ONE TIME OF JEFFERSON DAVIS

Given That Name in 1873—Where Davis Wrote "The Rise and Fall of the Confederacy."

By JOHN H. LANG
(For The Sea Coast Echo)

"Beauvoir" now the Confederate Veterans home is situated on the Gulf Coast Harrison county, Mississippi.

The grounds are a beautiful tract of 1000 feet fronting on the Mississippi Sound as is covered by a fine grove of live oaks and other beautiful trees.

The place was the residence of Mr. Brown and family who occupied it long before the war between the States.

When the war broke out the Brown family moved away and left their keeper a Mr. James Hannan in charge. Hannan lived there until the close of the war when Miss Sarah A. Dorsey came into possession of the property.

About 1873 Jefferson Davis came to live with the Dorsey family and wrote "The Rise and Fall of the Confederacy."

The buildings on the grounds consisted of the large raised dwelling and the two octagon buildings one of which Mr. Davis used as his office.

In 1873 the place was called "Beauvoir." I remember when the sign board bearing the name "Beauvoir" was nailed to a tree at the north end of the street on the west side of the property. Mrs. Dorsey at her death or just before gave the "Beauvoir" property to Mr. Davis. While living at "Beauvoir" he became ill and was taken to New Orleans where he died. I, among other Coast citizens attended his funeral when the remains were forwarded to his present resting place.

The property lay idle and vacant for a number of years and was finally sold to the Association in whose name it now stands by the heirs of Mr. Davis for a nominal sum said to be $10,000.00 with the clause of reverting when ceased to be used as a Veterans' home.

The only changes in the landscape from the Brown's time to date has been the addition of the numerous buildings for the veterans and possibly some shortening of the beach by erosion before the building of the Seawall.

The railroad station in the rear is also called "Beauvoir." The Veterans' Cemetery is north of the home between it and the railroad station. Here rest the remains of hundreds of the brave men who fought for what Mr. Davis said was right and all believed in him. Each grave is marked by a small stone bearing the name of the deceased and his company regiment, etc.

What disposition will be made of Beauvoir when Taps is sounded for the last one has not been determined, but some disposition must soon be made for the youngest of the old boys are now well along in their age and are going fast.

The name Beauvoir seems to mean "Beautiful to see or to behold," so it seems the place must have been given the name by Mr. Davis when he took up his residence there in 1873. The State of Mississippi makes appropriations each year to finance the home and the Veterans.

The present superintendent of the home is Jos. W. Havens who takes great interest in the home and the inmates.

Bay St. Louis Resident Loses Sister by Death At Pana, Illinois

Mr. Ralph Rugan and family have the sympathy of the community on the death of Mr. Rugan's sister, Mrs. Laura Rugan Stanfield, wife of A. C. Stanfield, resident of Pana, Illinois, who passed away Friday morning of week before last, native of Vandalia, Ill., aged 50 years.

Mrs. Stanfield is survived by her husband and two children, Ralph Francis, 22, and Louis Paul 16. A brother, Ralph Rugan of New Orleans and Bay St. Louis, and a sister, Mrs. Vivian Halford of Springfield, Ill. She was a member of the Methodist church since early childhood, and for many years a member of Arcana Chapter, No. 493, Order of the Eastern Star and served as worthy grand matron in 1933 for that term. Her early education in the Vandalia schools was followed by Normal school training, after which she taught several years in the Fayette and Giles counties.

The home press pays the memory of this splendid woman woman high tribute and the loss to her friends, acquaintances and community is keenly felt. Her passing away in

CITY TO PAY OFF DEBTS

To Issue Short Time Certificates Backed by Ad Valorem Delinquent Taxes Collectable

City of Bay St. Louis mayor and commissioners drafted and adopted an ordinance, which must lay over on file two weeks before official publication, whereby it is planned, according to law, to issue short time certificates in order that outstanding current indebtedness may be discharged.

The plan calls for $6,000 worth of certificates, $2,000 to be retired each year and extending over a period of three years. These certificates are backed by a delinquency of over $11,000 ad valorem taxes, which in the three year time will be collected through the regular process of law. Hence it is noted there is ample security, not only to back the solvency of the issue, in addition of the credit of the city, but with which to discharge the obligation without any bond issue or involving an increase of the ad valorem tax.

The plan is not only feasible but practicable and will put the city on a cash basis for current expenses and the Mayor and commissioners will be commended for their effort in behalf of both city and taxpayer. The ordinance will meet Monday and the council will then be authorized for proper promulgation.

BUSINESS MEN HEAR ADDRESS

City Commissioner H. Grady Perkins Program Speaker Before Rotary Club

City Commissioner H. Grady Perkins, commissioner of finance, of the Board of Mayor and Commissioners of the City of Bay St. Louis, was the program speaker Tuesday evening to a large group of business men assembled at the Rotary Club meeting and dinner. His talk was highly informative and gave an intelligent and most comprehensive slant on the finances of the city, giving figures in such manner that made it clear to every listener how the city was faring in its finances.

Readers of the city's statement, published in the columns of The Echo recently are acquainted with the city's finances. Paying off remaining indebtedness prior to the incoming of the present administration. Reducing taxation and balancing the budget. An outstanding reduction is the present 10 per cent of all assessments without raising the levy, 23 mills—same as formerly. Commissioner Perkins told the story in figures, and since we know figures tell the truth the address was all the more one of absorbing interest. He told of the remaining bond obligations to be discharged, that the last of bonds for the high school would mature and the final obligation paid off January, 1935.

He also said these figures were always available. The city's books were ever open to the public for inspection and the council invited taxpayers and others interested to call as often as they wish at the city hall; that all meetings of the council were public and anybody was welcomed to attend.

Business men were vitally interested in such a talk and the speaker was praised for the address at its conclusion. Rotary Club weekly programs are informative and illuminating and the meetings thus give added value to members and guests.

The very zenith of life is a distinct blow to all who know her, and the fraternal and social interests of the community will lose irreparably.

PASCAGOULA EKES OUT 18-12 VICTORY OVER ROCKACHAWS

Locals Draw First Blood in Best Game Seen on S. S. C. Field This Season

In one of the most thrilling football games of the 1934 season the Pascagoula Panthers eked out a lone touchdown victory over the St. Stanislaus Rockachaws last Saturday afternoon before a crowd that jammed every part of the big field.

Captain Larsen of the invading team was the outstanding player on the field. He was everything that the Coast papers have said about him, in fact, he is the whole Pascagoula team. The offense is built around him, and he can "go to town" whenever he believes the time ripe. He is also a big help on the defense. He appeared in almost every tackle that took place behind the visitor's line.

Stanislaus scored early in the first quarter after Larsen had punted to Stakelum and a return of ten yards had been made a march from the Stanislaus 40 yard line to the goal was interspersed with short passes and runs by Garriga and Stakelum. Cripps and Garriga were on the receiving ends of the passes thrown by Billy Quinn.

Pascagoula scored twice in the first half. The first touchdown came from a long pass from Larsen to Dees from the Stanislaus 40 yard line to the 15. Another pass and the first score was over to the Stanislaus. Shortly after Pascagoula blocked Garriga's punt in the middle of the field. Larsen on a reverse gained 25 yards; Grimley duplicated with another gain of about twenty, and a short pass from Larsen to Roberts netted the visitors 12 points. An attempted pass for the extra point was grounded.

In the third quarter after Stanislaus had been held for downs Pascagoula took the ball from their own 45 to the Stanislaus forty-five on a reverse play. Then Grimley went through right tackle for the third tally of the game. An attempt from placement was blocked. With the exception of the closing minutes of the game Pascagoula did not touch the ball again.

The Rockachaws started a march after the kick-off to drive down to the visitors goal with short passes from Quinn to Stakelum, to Cripps and to Garriga. At the ten yard line a short pass to Flink gave the Rockachaws another touchdown. Garriga's attempt was blocked.

One of the most spectacular moments of the game was after the Rockachaws had again marched down the field to again knock at the visitors goal they were met by a stubborn resistance which prevented a tie score. Four times were the Rockachaws thrown back from the one yard line.

Both teams played thrilling ball throughout the four hectic periods. It was a game well worth taking about for many moons. Our wishes go out to Pascagoula that they may annex the State title in their play-off which is understood to be in the very near future.

Tony Lafontaine, native of Lakeshore, Hancock county, and resident of Biloxi the past four years where he was employed, passed away at the Biloxi Hospital Sunday evening, November 11, at 7:30 o'clock P. M.

Lafontaine, while working assisting constructing the Veterans hospital at Biloxi, 25 months ago, fell from the building, breaking his back and sustaining other injuries. He was taken to the hospital where he died after more than two years of the best care possible and after exhausting every means known to medical science and attention for his recovery.

He sued the contractors and builders and was awarded $10,000 damages, the major part of which was spent for his treatment. Lafontaine was 25 years of age, unmarried.

TO BUILD HOSPITAL ADDITION

Bids Asked for Added Quarters For King's Daughters Hospital

Bids are asked by the executive management of Bay St. Louis King's Daughters Hospital for added second story to rear of present building and also for back porch-sun parlor for convalescents. Plans call for a two-story building containing two rooms for nurses' quarters and sun parlor, plans to that effect drawn and accepted. Same are on file at the hospital office and local contractors and builders are asked to bid on the labor only.

Bids are to be sealed and will be opened on Nov. 21st, the best bidder to be awarded the contract. Mrs. A. F. Fournier, president, and associates are enthusiastic over the success of the hospital. First to the extent that it fills a long-felt need and its usefulness becomes more so every day, so to speak. There is a constant demand for hospitalization, and in addition to pay services there is a charitable department for people of Hancock county—for those who can pay part and for others that county authorities recommend.

In addition to this the hospital serves decidedly in that phase to that point indicated by its name as an emergency hospital. Victims of auto and other accidents have in many instances been saved by the hospital attention ever ready both day and night.

BENEFIT OF THE SHORTCUT

BENEFITS to accrue to this immediate section of the Mississippi Gulf Coast country following completion and opening of the Louisiana-Mississippi Shortcut auto route or highway cannot be overestimated.

Already we can trace this improvement at hand to the coming of natural gas for domestic use. Interested parties representing the project tell The Echo the probability of many more people residing here as a result of this shortcut route is no unimportant factor in the decision to bring gas here. Looking to the immediate future, as well as basing calculations on the present population and number of probable users, is not to be lost sight of. On the contrary, possibilities of this kind are of material consideration.

Why the delay in "topping" the shortcut route has been authoritatively explained by Louisiana headquarters of the highway department to the effect that before any such work could be carried out it is necessary that a prescribed time must elapse before the roadway fully settles. Sand dredged in from the bottom of adjacent waters not only shifts but requires time for final settlement. And this can only come with time. However, the further announcement follows that the amount of the time expected to first elapse will not be necessary as conditions have proven more than satisfactory and "topping" may begin before expiration of the originally allotted time.

Of the several outstanding benefits to follow completion of this roadway none will mean more than increased realty values. There will be considerable demand for improved and unimproved property. With an influx of population this betterment is seemingly inevitable.

DR. MORTON RETIRES

TUSKEGEE Institute, famous Negro College in Alabama, has been fortunate in having for its two presidents outstanding members of the race. Booker T. Washington founded the College and under his guidance it won a wide recognition. He was succeeded by Robert R. Morton, who, after nineteen years of service, is now retiring.

Both of these prominent Negro leaders labored intelligently to uplift their race and to create the proper cooperative attitude, with mutual tolerance, between the two races in the South. As he retires from Tuskegee Dr. Morton says there is now "a more kind feeling and justice for the Negro" than ever before.

"It is not 100 percent perfect," he went on, "but neither is it in New York, or Boston or in other parts of the North. Lynchings are progressively decreasing. This may sound strange, but the worse they are, the more revolting and the more aberrant they are, the better the results. They are shocking and then more sentiment is developed against them."

"I think the Negro is better off in the United States than in any other country of the world, even Africa. The Negro enjoys a higher standard of living, of education, of culture, a higher standard of civilization in America than any where, and this in spite of prejudices and disadvantages."

Dr. Morton said he did not approve of segregation of the Negro, although he thought it "the best thing as a matter of expediency in parts of the country." He felt, however, that if left alone the average Negro would go with his own people. With this "voluntary segregation," he said he could see no laws requiring segregation necessary.

A firm believer in the Old Testament, Dr. Morton said his philosophy for the last forty years had been "to teach men to live together." He praised the ideal of Booker T. Washington who, he said, "taught the Negro to respect the white man and the white man to consider the Negro."

Dr. Morton visited this section, guest of Gulfside, local Negro center of recreation and study, and addressed both whites and colored. He is not entirely unknown in person to this part of the country.

TAKE OFFICE IN JANUARY

A SUBSCRIBER telephoned this office the other day asking when will Congressman-elect Colmer assume office for his second term; that an argument had arisen and had to be settled.

The Congress elected last week will take office in January with only two months intervening between election and succession to office. This came about as a result of the Norris amendment to the constitution, eliminating the "lame duck session" which used to begin in March, following an election. Under the old system the Congress elected last week would not convene until December, 1935.

Naturally, such a delay in taking office was not necessary in this modern era of transportation and transmission of intelligence. However it may be discovered, later on, that two months is not quite long enough to wait after an election and that changes in governmental policy come too rapidly. Newly elected Congressmen have a lot to learn before assuming to direct the affairs of this republic and vote upon the many important matters that come before them. However, in the case of Congressman Colmer and others re-elected this does not apply.

DREAMS THAT HAVE COME TRUE.

OUR local readers well remember the time when projects for this section were possibly only dreamed of. One hardly dared to presume such things would come to pass. Costing millions of dollars in the aggregate it seemed akin to the impossible to accomplish various projects that have become realities.

Let us turn the pages of only a short while ago. We find among the things sought and looked for:

The million-dollar seawall.

Building of the eighty-odd thousand dollar high school building.

Constructing a city water works system costing approximately the same.

Building of the three-quarter-million-dollar bi-county highway bridge. It was said this could not be done.

Hardsurfacing principal streets city of Bay St. Louis.

And now completion of the La.-Miss. Shortcut and conducting natural gas from Louisiana and Mississippi gas fields for domestic and industrial purposes.

No community of this size in so short a space can parallel this series of public improvements.

The Shortcut is only a matter of time, we are assured. And gas, a $50,000 project, to be paid by outsiders is a matter left entirely to the voters who will pass on the franchise.

Surely no community has gotten so much for comparatively so little money, such betterments for proportionately so little.

We will not stop here. We will march and progress further. We must enhance realty values. That is a fundamental of our prosperity. Possibly lower ad valorem taxes will do this. And aren't we already on the way to that?

New York City has a movie theater entirely for children. It is called The Mickey Mouse Theater and shows exclusively films that Mickey Mouse suggests and the kindred like.

ABOUT "INDECENT" MOVIES

WE haven't heard very much about the campaign against indecency in the movies lately but we call to the reader's attention the evident fact that there is no system in the universe which compels a man or a woman to see a picture that they prefer not to see.

There is much to be said in defense of the operators of the moving picture theatres in this country as well as elsewhere. They are not to be blamed, as a class, for the type of films put out by the producers nor are they responsible for showing objectionable pictures which producers compel them to buy.

We have witnessed a great number of moving pictures. Some we did not like; others we enjoyed. However, it has been our practice to watch the advertising matter and the write-ups of the screen's offerings. When we know that the theatre is showing a type of picture that we do not care to see, we stay home. It is a good rule for everybody and, in time, the most effective form of censorship that the world provides.

A frequenter of local movies told The Echo not very long since that he had never seen an "indecent" or vulgar movie. Which means to the pure all things are pure. If children understand movies, at all, we are of the opinion that the greatest harm comes from parents who allow children to see pictures intended for adults, productions that were never written or intended but for any class but the regular, normal, clean living and clean thinking adult. The old French proverb still holds good, "Honi soit qui mal y pense."

Next Sunday is a good Sunday to go to church; there are very few people in the world who won't be helped by regular attendance upon religious exercises.

TEACHERS SHOULD WARN PUPILS

SCHOOL teachers of Hancock County should not hesitate to take a few minutes out of their work every week to discuss with their pupils the dangers of the highway, with modern automobiles whizzing by and children being accidentally killed at the rate of eighty a week.

Not only should this slaughter have the attention of school teachers but other organizations in Hancock county should help in the fight against this terrible toll. Children must be repeatedly warned to avoid the dangers that lurk in careless use of the highways of the nation.

It's time for us to quit taking for granted the death of eighty children a week and almost that many adults every day. The price is too much to pay for speed and concerted effort can cut down the death toll appreciably.

World trade in July was less than one-third of what it was in the same month of 1929. The question is, if world trade goes up, will individual nations prosper?

CLUB REARS SEVEN ORPHANS

IN THE Rotarian magazine we recently read about the adoption of seven orphans by the Lynchburg, Va., club some seventeen years ago and the remarkable success of the project in humanity at a cost of around $40,000.

We feel sure that other service clubs have records of similar cases, where unselfish business men, brought face to face with human need, have responded nobly. The Lynchburg example, however, is inspiring because it was a concerted effort over a period of years, outlasting the first enthusiasm that comes to many of us when we undertake something unselfish. It succeeded in giving the seven boys and girls a successful preparation for living and a start in life itself that promises much.

WITH THE PRESS

SMITH BROS. COUGHING UP:
(Bogalusa Enterprise)

"THE Smith Brothers Coughed Up," thus did the Wall Street Journal headline, an editorial concerning the taxes paid by the Smith Brothers of cough-drop fame. And the facts show that the concern must cough long and hard indeed.

Recently the Smith Brothers posted a sign in a restaurant they own, listing their various taxes. There are 24 of them, and each is distinctly different. They include a federal, a state and city tax; an oil, telephone and check tax; gasoline tax; stock and franchise taxes; processing and gross receipts tax, and so on. At the bottom of their list was printed "We Do Our Part."

The Smith Brothers are in no different position from thousands of other businesses, large and small. These businesses are reaching the point where taxation is becoming the largest single item of expense—many examples are recorded where more is paid to government than to workers, with little or nothing, or deficits left to the owners. Many of these businesses are reaching the point where it will be impossible for them to meet the tax collector's demands—where they will find it cheaper to go out of business and salvage what they can now, than to keep on operating.

The entire cause of economic recovery is bound up with the tax problem. We want employment, investment, industrial development—but we cannot have them by establishing taxation policies that throw men out of work, frighten investors, and paralyze industry.

All of us are coughing up with the Smith Brothers.

IF—

(Pascagoula Chronicle-Star)

IF A Member of your family died, would you have the obituary mimeographed and scattered all over the town? If you had a wedding in your family would you announce it by a slide in the picture show? If you had a birthday party at your house, or celebrated some important anniversary, would you write it out and tack it on the telephone and light poles? If a new baby came to your house would you announce the fact by distributing a 6x9 colored dodger? If you enlarged your store would you expect some out-of-town advertising faker to give you half column about it, and brag about your progress and enterprise? No, you would not.

Then why in the name of Moses and the prophets do you not put your legitimate advertising in the chronicle-Star, where it belongs and where you will get some return for it?

HOW THE WORLD "DO MOVE"

THE WORLD "do move," as the old negro said about the sun. Time was when the counties comprising the southeastern part of Mississippi were called in derision the "cow counties," and there were few farms and no large towns in this section and vast areas were given over to the raising of scrub cattle. Now look at us! Four of the largest cities in the state are in south-east Mississippi, not to mention two real seaports; and more than that, both U. S. Senators are from this section, almost in adjoining counties; we have the congressman from the district, the governor of the state lives in one of the cow counties, and in all probability the next governor will hail from the same section.—Pascagoula-Star.

NARY a-ONE—

(Jackson Daily News)
DR. FELIX Underwood, secretary and director of the State health board, tells this one. Down in Pike county a farmer was told by one of the local sanitary officers that it wasn't healthy to have hogs sleeping under his house. He replied: "My haws have been a-sleeping under the house for nigh onto eighteen years, and I ain't lost a haw yit."

SCHOOL OR JOBS

(An Editorial for The Rotarian Magazine)
"THE trouble with youth," a man who knows boys recently commented, "is its youthfulness." He added, let it be said that a prime characteristic of youth is an urge for activity. If opportunity for its expression is not given through schools, and jobs are unavailable, is it to be wondered that unadjusted boys and girls experiment in fields that lead to conflict with law and order?

The dangerous age for a youth is the period when he is bridging adolescence and early maturity. Statistics prove this. In England and Wales, forty-two percent of all persons found guilty of indictable crimes last year were under twenty-one. In the United States, according to Department of Justice reports, two-thirds of all arrests for crime involve persons between fifteen and twenty-four, and those nineteen years old lead any other age group.

No grand social scheme can solve the problem of unadjusted youth at one swoop. Boys and girls, like their elders, are not cut-to-one pattern. But any adult does a real service who makes it possible for a youngster to remain in school, which is the best agency for life training that society has yet evolved, and when school days are over helps him get suitable employment.

HUNTING SEASON ENDANGERS LIVES IN EVERY SECTION

Sportsmen of Hancock Co. Urged to Follow Rules Of Safety.

Already emblazoned in the headlines of papers all over the country one reads "Hunter Killed Accidentally." Yes, that happens every season and it seems that we would take warning and use the necessary caution, but somehow, we don't.

It is said that one generation profits from the mistakes of other generations; that we learn to leave off doing certain things when a glance into the past shows that those things are dangerous, but how true is this saying? It certainly doesn't prove true when it comes to hunting accidents, automobile accidents and the like, does it?

Well, we all get the idea that we couldn't do such a foolish thing. We wouldn't drag a loaded gun, over or through a fence. No—not us, we have too much sense to do that. We wouldn't get so interested in a hunt as to shoot at a moving bush and perhaps accidentally kill our hunting companion.

Isn't it peculiar that we can never attribute such foolish acts to ourselves and yet right now in Hancock county some one is going to be seriously wounded, or perhaps killed by just such carelessness during the hunting season which is now upon us?

Every season The Echo issues a warning to those who are planning to avail themselves of the privileges and pleasures of the hunt. Hundreds of sportsmen read these articles but fail to apply the warning to themselves. We will be adding our bit to the effort to cut down this unnecessary toll of accidents if we offer here some "Don'ts" to the hunters of Hancock county. Here they are:

1. Don't point the muzzle of your gun at anything you don't want to kill, whether the safety is on or not.
2. Don't lean your gun against anything where it may slip off, fall down and discharge.
3. Don't handle your gun by the muzzle. The stock was made to take hold of.
4. Don't pull a gun toward you over, through or under a fence, or out of a car, holding on to the barrel.
5. Don't fail to unload your gun before entering camp or your car.
6. When walking with a gun, carry it pointed up, or at the ground, especially so if someone is walking in front or behind you.
7. And above all, don't shoot at moving shadows or crackling brush. It may be your hunting partner instead of a deer.

With The Movies And Film Folks.

SETTING at rest the rumors of her retirement from the screen is the announcement by MGM officials that Greta Garbo has signed a new contract.

Leslie Howard has been selected for the title role in the film version of Hervey Allen's "Anthony Adverse," which will go into production at the Warner studio within the next few months. Other tentative selections include, Edward G. Robinson, Robert Barst, Warren William, Bette Davis, George Brent, Ann Dvorak, Ricardo Cortez, Kay Francis, Guy Kibbee, Aline MacMahon and Henry O'Neill.

Although Attorney-General Cummings has publicly announced that no picture depicting the work of Federal agents will be made with the approval of the Department of Justice, Paramount is going ahead with plans for the production of "Federal Dick," in which agents of the Department of Justice will receive cinematic recognition. George Raft and Cary Grant seem likely to head the cast.

FLEAS AND FLIES PREP FOR THANKSGIVING GAME

Preparations are being made for the annual tilt between the Fleas and Flies of Stanislaus. The teams are chosen from the smallest boys in the school. This key-day. The teams are about being the main feature on Tur-every edge on the line, while the Flies carry a heavier back-field. The Flies will use the Varsity style of play—The Tulane system; the Fleas will employ the Double Wing Back Formation featuring an aeroplane spin. Secret practice has begun in earnest. Regular drills, scrimmages, blocking, tackling, will be the daily grind until the 29th.

Here's the lowdown on each player.

FLEAS
J. Perre, Captain, H. B. A blocker of the first class, and vicious tackler.

J. Ryan, H. B. Fast and Shifty; give him a foot start and it's a touchdown.

Marion Guidry, F. B. A charging, smashing plunger who finds no trouble in making gaps in opposing lines.

E. Arceneaux, Q. B. A consistent player thru-out; Eddie gets his man without fail.

J. Sheehy, C. Johnny is the best Center the Pebbles ever had. Has three years experience.

R. Gonzalez, R. G. Who can always be relied on in a pinch "to take his man out."

C. Piazza, R. T. Small but plucky; a fine tackler as the Flies will agree.

L. Elliott, L. T. A Flea in the Flies' ointment, Luke is always on the job hanging on where ever he can.

C. Wenar, L. E. Very good on defense, though out only one year.

"Fuzzy" Favre R. T. Though a "ringer" last year, Fuzzy is out to prove to his brother "Nelius" that Nelius ain't so hot."

J. Slavich Very good tackler as he proved during the season.

Crawford Star end who is set on putting a stop to these "sweeping end runs."

FLIES
"Hucky" Milan Captain, halfback, and blocker on the field. He cuts hard.

L. Barber, Q. B. Best signal caller on Pebbles. Heady, a good passer and has snake hips.

R. Breerwood, H. B. Expected to shine Thanksgiving. Fleas backs will see plenty of him.

V. Colson, H. B. A hard guy to get out of the way, especially when he's mad.

C. Allain, T. Flea backs will bump into him more than once—and they'll know it.

T. Tudury, F. B. Theo was the star Fullback on the Pebbles this season. He smacks 'em hard and generally comes up with a first down.

E. Breerwood, R. G. A rough and ready flea who "don't stand for no foolishness" in de udder guy's backfield.

Albert Alba, L. T. Star guard on the Pebbles. Albert is just one big worry to his opponents.

R. Elliott, T. Russell says nix on off tackle touchdowns; has three years experience.

A. G. Favre, L. T. A good example for his two younger brothers; That's my brudder."

Nelius Favre, R. G. A pain in the neck to Fuzzy; is out to prove Fuzzy "aint so hot."

Benevenuti, Tackle A new Rockchaw with a bright future.

R. Barber, Tackle End who figures on being on the Varsity before 1940.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

BILLY GOLDMAN, Scribe.

BOY SCOUTS of Troop 208 have been very active the past weeks. The butterfly patrol contest was won by the Rattlesnake patrol by a close margin. The two boys with the best individual collections, Elliot Casanova and Billy Goldman, will receive books about the Scout uniform as prizes, in addition to the grand prize for the winning patrol, a case of Coca-Cola.

Mr. L. M. W. Pepperdine, of Canada, who addressed our troop last summer, sent some pictures, of which the troop is very proud. The parade Monday afternoon, November 5, of all Bay Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, led by the St. Stanislaus Band, was highly successful as was the drive for funds which followed. The Boy Scouts wish to thank the public for their splendid co-operation and sincere interest in the work.

At the troop meeting Friday night another contest was suggested. Each patrol will present a program and the best will win a number of points toward the Perkins trophy.

The Boy Scouts of Troop 208 were honored by three guests last meeting. The first to arrive was Mr. F. Fayard, assistant scoutmaster of our brother troop, and a great booster of Scouting. This was not the first of our meetings Mr. Fayard has attended and we wish to assure him that he is always very welcome.

Our second guest was Mr. Roland Weston who offered a case of Coca-Cola to the patrol capturing the greatest number of butterflies in one month. This contest closed today and the prize was won by the "Rattlesnake Patrol." Elliott Cowand brought in the greatest number for one boy.

Capt. Peairs and Eddie Jones, scoutmaster and assistant scoutmaster respectively, have transferred several scouts to the opposite patrol. This was necessary to more balance the patrols, due to the newly recruited members.

The recruits are: Edwin Fuch, Ernest George, Lucien Kidd, Charles Benigno, Steele Ansley, Allen Ansley, Gant Boswell, Robert Boswell, and Donald Nelson.

Alton Erwin and Jack Ingram, Charter members of 208 are back again. Alton was appointed leader of the Rattlesnake Patrol, with R. Boswell as his assistant.

Three or four weeks ago our quota was stated as 24. At that time we had 18 members; now we have 30 registered scouts.

Just a minute, almost forgot about our third visitor, who entertained with many fascinating stunts. Some of the fellows are still guessing. The performer of Magic tricks, whom we learned to know as Mr. Johnson, was cheered with much enthusiasm.

We, the Boy Scouts of Troop 208 wish to express our appreciation to those who took part in the Scout Drive, and to all contributors. We realize thoroughly how important this act is in making our troop's recognition possible.

Built Up Strength By Taking Cardui

Here's her own account of how Mrs. T. W. Hardin, of Greer, S. C., was benefited by taking Cardui: "I suffered a great deal from weakness in my back and pains in my legs. I read of Cardui and decided to try it. I felt better after I took my first bottle, so kept on taking it as I felt such a need of strength and it helped me so much."

Don't forget the date, November 17, at 7:30 P. M., at the S. J. A. Gym. See you there.

SODALITY NOTES

The Monthly meeting of the Gulf Coast Sodality Union was held November 8, at the Sacred Heart Academy, in Biloxi. After the reading of the monthly activities of the various Sodalities, the Vicksburg Convention was spoken of. The question of "How To Incite Interest In Sodality Meetings" was also brought up. It was suggested that the representatives from the different Sodalities attend the meetings of a neighbor Sodality, thus getting new ideas for the promotion of Sodality activities. The subject of the Mexican revolt was also brought up. A short talk was given by Father Keenan of Biloxi, on the benefits of social gatherings for young Catholic people. The meeting adjourned with a closing prayer.

MRS. ESTHER MARS DIES

Picayune, Miss., Nov. 6.—Funeral services for Mrs. Esther Mars were conducted at Turle Skin cemetery, a few miles south of Picayune, with the Rev. W. B. She had been ill only 10 days. Besides her husband she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Selena Blackwell of Weston Farm, Route One, Picayune, and three children.

Attracted by screams of her three-year-old child left playing in another room, a Son Antonio mother rushed to investigate and found a huge woodrat attacking the child. The ferocious rodent had bitten her on the hand three times before the mother beat it off. Treatment to guard against rabies was given by hospital physicians.

Miss Ruby Edna Rosenstream, sister of Mr. John Rosenstream, well-known in New Orleans and resident of Waveland, died at 12:35 o'clock Thursday afternoon following an illness of only five days. There was no seeming indication that the end was near. Her passing away was a shock to the family and a young woman her death is all the more acutely felt by the bereaved ones.

Rouse Bishop From Pullman Car at Bay St. Louis for Dispensation

Rousing Bishop Gerow from the Pullman for a marriage dispensation as he was known to be going through Bay St. Louis is an interesting story that comes from Biloxi, the principles residents of that city.

The Daily Blixian says Evelyn Burdine and Woodrow Pringle had been secretly married. However, wishing to be wedded by the church they set out to be rewedded. This is the story from the Blixian paper: "The Pringles wedding was just like a story book romance. Originally they had set the date for about New Years but Evelyn decided to get it over with, away they started to see Rev. Father Peter Keenan.

"Because of church rules he was unable to marry them until dispensation had been given by Bishop Gerow who was enroute to Biloxi on a train. They were not to be stopped by this and they set out for Bay St. Louis. There they met with the same difficulty, but the couple got busy in a hurry. They obtained permission to have the ceremony performed in Bay St. Louis but the dispensation remained necessary. They learned that Bishop Gerow would pass through Bay St. Louis on the next train so they roused him from the Pullman and obtained the necessary permission, then took the vows."
